A meeting of the council of ministers will be held tomorrow morning before the final step is taken.
The joint note of the powers advised Turkey to cede Adrianople to the allies and to leave the fate of the Aegean Islands to the powers for future determination. In return the powers promised their benevolent support so long as Turkey deferred to their counsel.

INDEMNITY OF $200,000,000.

Claim of Balkans Likely to Precipitate Another European War.

London, Jan. 22.—The plenipotentiaries of the Balkan kingdoms are immensely pleased over the decision of the grand council at Constantinople to accept the advice of the powers. While it has become increasingly certain in the past 48 hours that the Turkish elder statesmen were prepared to face the bitter fate that ends the empire's history as an European nation, it was hardly expected they would register their decision so quickly and so definitely.

This is so unlike the customary tactics that some suspicion is entertained, without supporting proof, that Turkey might have cards up her sleeve.

One crucial point of difference remains to be settled in the question of indemnity. The allies propose to levy a heavy payment upon the defeated nation.

They speak of $200,000,000 as an adequate sum, their minimum is an amount equal to the Turkish debts attached to the territories which they will annex under the treaty.

The Turks are likely to contest the indemnity strongly, and the bankruptcy condition of their country furnish them with a potent argument for an appeal to the powers. The negotiation over the settlement of minor questions and for the taking of the conquered provinces will occupy a considerable time and it will be some weeks before the treaty is signed.

M. Novakovich, the ex-premier of

"The Turks seem finally to have recovered the faculty of reasoning, but why today instead of six weeks ago as they must pay what our four armies have been costing us all this time. We have not yet set down figures for the indemnity, but we have practically decided on what basis it is to be calculated."

lated and how it is to be divided among the allies.

"Each Balkan state will take as basis the number of soldiers it put in the field, averaging the cost of each soldier during the time the country was on a war footing.

DREAM AROUSES

MAN'S SUSPICION

Investigation and Trip to Paris Prove the Dream True.

New York, Jan. 22.—A dream so vivid that its truth could not be doubted caused Charles Grellet to sue today for an annulment of his marriage seven years ago. On the witness stand Grellet said that he dreamed he met his wife in Paris with another man whom she introduced as her husband. When he awoke and asked his wife about the dream her replies aroused his suspicions and he went abroad to see if his vision were true.

The records in Paris, Grellet testified, showed that his wife had been married there in 1900 to Victor Countant, then living. The case was unfounded. Justice Erlanger reserved decision.

CLAIMED TO BE VICTIM OF WRECK AT WESTPORT
New York Man Debrauds New Haven Road Out of $400.

New York, Jan. 22.—Capitalization of a pneumatic arm for $400 is alleged in a grand larceny complaint on which Charles A. Lang, a gasfitter, was arrested today. Lang is in court for two general sessions and held in $5,000 bond. Lang is accused of having defrauded the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company of $400 by wrongfully claiming that he was a victim in the Boston-Springfield express train wreck near Westport, Conn., last Nov. 10.

Subsequently his claim was settled out of court for $400. The complaint today sets forth that Lang at the time of the wreck was sick in the city, receiving a $6 benefit weekly from an employee's society.
